MacKenzie To Return To Sussex; University Stresses Flexible Setup

By Barry Graffstein

The long-suspended festival of Winter Carnival, this year again entitled “Count’s Carnival,” will take place January 1-3, with activities extending to January 4.

The second session of the festival, which will be held January 1-3, will include such activities as the “Count’s Winter Carnival” and the “Count’s Carnival.” The second session will be held January 4.

At the “Count’s Winter Carnival,” 10 winter-related activities will take place, including the annual “Count’s Winter Carnival” and the “Count’s Carnival.”

The first session will be held January 1-3, and will include such activities as the “Count’s Winter Carnival” and the “Count’s Carnival.”

The second session will be held January 4.

At the “Count’s Winter Carnival,” 10 winter-related activities will take place, including the annual “Count’s Winter Carnival” and the “Count’s Carnival.”

The first session will be held January 1-3, and will include such activities as the “Count’s Winter Carnival” and the “Count’s Carnival.”

The second session will be held January 4.